C&D Lumber is proud of our Certified Graders for exceeding even the WWPA's stringent standards. Besides an established record of grading experience, our team grades a large volume of lumber with the highest levels of accuracy (95%). And the WWPA constantly tests to maintain performance and ensure our team is at the top of their game. We depend on their strict quality control, personal pride, and commitment to the products.

It's not good wood until they say so. And they're Certified to say so.
